2017 Convention

17 - 18 October

Sandton Convention Centre, Johannesburg

DON'T JUST COME TO THE CONVENTION. COME TO SHAPE THE FUTURE

Shape the conversation and propose your topic ideas for the Actuarial Society of South Africa's 2017 Convention.

We are accepting topic proposals for full session presentations and TED-Style talks based on formal papers as well as presentations without formal papers through to this Friday, 31 March. The Convention provides an opportunity for professionals at every level to participate, learn and network. New for 2017, the 2017 Convention includes a tighter selection process, speaker assessment and training and a variety of presentation formats.

Each presentation allows attendees to explore what's next in the world of Actuarial Science or simply help you to do your job better.

Have an idea for a presentation? We want to hear from you! View the Call for Topics with important dates and information here and submit your proposal here by Friday, 31 March.

All topics received will be reviewed by the Convention Organising Committee who will recommend the top submissions to move through to the second selection round. Innovative proposals and authoritative positions on topical issues as well as sessions that lead to implemented learning in line with the new CPD scheme will be the best fit for the 2017 Convention.

At the recent CPD sessional meetings, some members asked "Why should I attend the Convention if bums-on-seats is no longer the measure of CPD?". The response was firstly that the Convention is one of the leading financial conferences in South Africa, and attracts financial professionals on its merits and value-for-money. Secondly, the new CPD is about maintaining our ability to deliver a quality service, so you should be able to take back to the office and implement the learning, participation and networking in which you can engage at the Convention.

Be sure to mark your calendars for the 2017 Convention from 17 & 18 October in Sandton, Johannesburg.

Regards,

The 2017 Convention Organising Committee
